

A new claims system brought this dental practice $60,000 in a week

Belmont was missing out on getting paid faster and spending needless hours on a process that should have taken minutes.

Belmont Dentistry used to spend hours everyday printing claim forms, stuffing envelopes, and tracking down addresses to send insurance claims through the mail. With paper claims, there was no way to know if they were accepted, if anything was missing, or when the office would get paid. Belmont didn't know it, but they were missing out on getting paid faster and spending needless hours on a process that should have taken minutes.

Fanny Perry has been in the dental industry for 15 years and used Remote Lite® e-claim processing software (part of Vyne Dental's Practice Core) for most of her time as an office manager. When she arrived at Belmont Dentistry, Perry's priority was switching the office to electronic claims because she knew how simple e-claims were to handle.

"They loved [Remote Lite] because it's not rocket science or open-heart surgery — it's easy," says Perry.

Remote Lite was perfect for a growing practice like Belmont.

Belmont recently merged two dental practices into one, which meant that when Perry arrived in the summer, there was a backlog of claims. She sent over 300 claims after installing Remote Lite, and by week's end, the practice received a payment of $60,000. How quickly the claims were accepted after being filed via Remote Lite was a shock to the staff. Remote Lite cut out both mailing costs and fees for refiling if there were rejections and offered unlimited claims for a flat fee per month, which was perfect for a growing practice like Belmont.
